EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Land and Resources Officer (Reposting)

Full-time Term Position October, 2017 to March 31, 2018 with possible renewal

Description:

Carrier Chilcotin Tribal Council (CCTC) is seeking to hire a Land and Resources Officer in a newly created position to further the objectives for the Southern Dakeh Nation Alliance (SDNA). CCTC administers the operation of SDNA. SDNA is composed of the Lhoosk'uz Dené Nation, Lhtako Dené Nation, Nazko First Nation and Ulkatcho First Nation. SDNA is a dynamic and growing Nation that demonstrates strong leadership in asserting inherent rights and title, supporting a vibrant economy, while sustaining a healthy natural environment. We are a diverse and progressive organization of professional, creative and dedicated team members and leaders.

This position will develop a community driven plan to assist member Referral Officers to increase their capacity to respond to referrals while being proactive in expanding the range of issues we can respond to. The successful candidate will develop a Nation based system to support a collaborative approach to referrals to assist the communities. This position will be working generally in subject areas of: Land Stewardship, Resources, Fish, Wildlife and assisting on Rights and Title areas.

The position will add technical capacity to the community based Referral Officers using Geographic Information Systems and other technical support.

Who can apply?

The successful candidate must have:

- an undergraduate degree in one of the following: anthropology, ethnography or geography (or a resource science related degree), with a minor in Geographic Information Systems;
- three years experience in Geographic Information Systems
- several years experience in First Nations referral work
- familiarity with inner government workings, especially the provincial government's land ministries;
- an acceptable combination of recent related work experience and education will be also considered;

Abilities & Skills:

- The candidate must have a demonstrated ability to work independently as well as part of a team;
- Highly organized and able to work under pressure with minimal supervision to meet deadlines;

- Excellent oral and written communication skills;
- Must possess excellent organizational, interpersonal and public relation skills;
- Possess strong skills in Windows, MS Office Suite (Word, Excel, Powerpoint, and Publisher) as well as Outlook;
- Possess the ability to network, build effective relationships, communicate appropriately and represent the CCTC at meetings and other gatherings;
- Should have a good knowledge of Carrier and Chilcotin communities, organizations, culture and traditions; these skills and the ability to speak Carrier or Chilcotin, would be an asset;

Essential Functions and Duties:

1. Supplies expertise to help assess land development proposals or, if not within officer's area of expertise, finds expertise and resources to assist in the assessment process;
2. Selects, develops and uses suitable computer software system to assess proposals while tracking each stage of the referral process and;
3. Builds a databank of information to record decisions to help determine future responses;
4. Records, documents and catalogues communication with referral officers, supervisors, subordinates and outside parties and provides training to referral officers to implement at community level;
5. In meetings, provides backing research, collection of agenda items, preparation and distribution of agenda packages, create presentations, record and transcribe discussions to appropriate levels of the organization;
6. Organizes and schedules meetings, appointments, teleconferencing and travel;
7. Researches and writes funding proposals to maintain and grow the department;
8. Manages financial expenditures, reporting and data entry; maintains and troubleshoots specialized office equipment related to the specific work engaged in cooperation with relevant personnel or service persons.

Start date, salary & location:

The position starts October 2017. Salary range is $50 – $62K and will be determined based on qualifications and experience. The location of this position will be at our Williams Lake office.
